ABOUT THE GAME

Karadiyar is a free, text-based fantasy MMORPG for iOS and Android. Six races split into two sides and fight over one living map: men, elves and dwarves on one side, orcs, goblins and dark elves on the other. Cities, castles, dragons and the sea are all worth fighting for, and every story is written by the players who live it.

Players pick a race, choose a side and build a life in the world: a warrior, a smith whose name is carved into every blade, a farmer whose crops feed an alliance, or a hunter that the whole server learns to fear. There is no pay-to-win: power comes from playing.

KEY FEATURES

Two sides, one map

Six races, two factions. Heroes lead armies, and the winning side takes the city.

Real-player PvP

Anyone can hunt you. Bounties are posted anonymously, and the one who avenges you may be your heir.

Alliances & castle sieges

Alliances besiege castles with rams and trebuchets in two-hour battles.

Raids and sea hunts

Ten warriors face the dragon Vorgrim in his cave. Ten captains hunt the Kraken at sea.

Dragon taming

Master Animal Taming and bond with a dragon. Every murder you commit drains that bond.

A player-made economy

Smiths craft and sign their gear, farmers grow battle buffs, and everything trades on the marketplace.

NOW: YULETIDE FESTIVAL

From 1 December 2026 to 1 March 2027 (UTC), Karadiyar holds its first seasonal festival. Cities and the Arena turn snowy, and a daily Snowball Fight puts ten players on a snowy square, with good and evil on the same team and no penalty for losing. Snowball Fights and festival quests reward Yule Tokens, which cannot be bought, for ten Yule portraits and a profile snow animation.
